As seen on Facebook: 6 reasons why you should trust God.

January 28 - February 3, 2019

Monday: Isaiah 43:1 Reflect on God knowing your name, knowing every hair on your head, and even knowing every scar you have. Pray in thanksgiving for a God who not only knows us, but loves us through it all.

Tuesday: Exodus 14:14 Be still...has God met me? I wonder how many times in the Bible we are told to be still and let God do what God does. Being still is one of the hardest things for me to do. Pray in thanksgiving for a God who fights for us, and pray for the reminders to be still.

Wednesday: Psalm 139:17-18 The immensity of God's love and power for each person are unfathomable, but it doesn't mean they aren't there. Look for God's love and power in your life today, and pray in thanksgiving for that love so freely given.

Thursday: Jeremiah 29:11 It is sometimes hard to see how God's plan is unfolding when you are in the thick of it. I just prayed that the other night. 'How long will I have to endure this?' ... I don't always see the plan, but I trust God will work it out for good. Pray for God's strength to wait for His good plans.

Friday: Psalm 62:6-8 Pray through these verses today, especially when you are feeling emotionally unsafe and persecuted.

Saturday: Matthew 28:19-20 God has given us a lot of responsibility in this world, but He also does not walk away from being with us during this work. Take comfort and encouragement trusting that God remains with you through the ages. Pray in thanksgiving for the peace that comes from knowing God is with you always.

Sunday: What is your go-to verse(s) that reminds you that you can trust God to be there always? Share that verse(s) with us on Facebook, Twitter, or in person.
